OAK GROVE CEMETERY

"The stones of a cemetery are eloquent, speaking tragically of man's evanescence, often telling the story of an entire family which was born, lived and finally received into that sod from which it sprang. The Oak Grove cemetery contains the history of the Lyon and Remy Families, in which three generations of the former and six generations of the latter are buried. William and Eliza both Remy the oldest Remy's buried there, were first buried in another cemetery, and were later removed to Oak Grove. The Remy and Lyon families are closely related thru the marriage of William H. Lyon, the pioneer, to the granddaughter, and thru the marriage of his son Peter, to the great, granddaughter of the Remy's."

These people were not only pioneers of Henry County, Iowa, but were descendants of pioneers of America, the genealogy of which is very interesting research.
